Importance and Scope of the Workshop:

Human's curiosity, intellect and intention to research are basis of knowledge. Knowledge refers to bodies of facts and hypothesis that enable one to understand phenomena and to solve problems. Islam vigorously encourages Muslims to seek true knowledge. For that purpose Allah in the Holy Quran and the beloved Prophet Muhammad ﷺ in his Noble teachings repeatedly praise the knowledge and invite people to seek and learn the truth. Seeking knowledge in Islam is an obligation upon every Muslim and research is integral part of it. Therefore, a mature Muslim must personally and collectively seek the truth and conduct the research in the matter of principles in Islam. With the passage of time this behaviour becomes a science of knowledge in Islamic Studies which are known as principles of research. In this age of globalization and communication the tools and methods of research have entirely changed to scientific methods which are called modern principles of research methodology. Hopefully, this Research workshop will open new horizons in advance research in the field Islamic Studies and Humanities to meet high standards and modern challenges in quality education and research innovation.
