Lecturer in Management Sciences & Business

Management Trainee

Summary

Enthusiastic Business Management trainee along with 9 years of teaching experience fostering a cohesive student-learning atmosphere. Further am an outstanding individual who comes to you with a successful record of accomplishment of interpreting and presenting financial and Business analyses with management skills. My key strengths lie in ability to influence future business decision making, and being able to effectively juggle multiple priorities. I am more than able to work in an environment of change, challenge and multiple deadlines. On top of this, I am expert at Business management subjects and communicating key information and analysis to senior management. As a true all-rounder, I have extensive experience of teaching, streamlining processes, and driving efficiency. Now I am looking for a suitable position with a company that has a culture, which inspires and supports its employees.
