Research of Interest

As far as my profession is concerned, I relate to literature, and I have my specialization in literature. Therefore, the source of research work is language, literature, and the development of culture. In this regard, whatever the research work has been contributed by me so far, its main source has been this discipline, in which the various dimensions of Balochi literature are focused particularly.

Among the all-Pakistani languages, Balochi is the only language which adopted the written tradition in the twenty centuries. Prior, this language has been in oral tradition. As compared with the other languages spoken in Pakistan, Balochi folk stories and fables and folk poetry possess a much stronger traditional magnificence. Similarly, its classical poetry consists of hundred years of civilization. The modern Balochi literature initiated in the mid of the twentieth century and all the genre of literature have been practiced in the last seventy years. Undoubtedly, research plays very vital role in the progress of any language, therefore, my research work focuses on Balochi language, culture and its history distinctively.

The objective of my research work is to pore over and revive the indigenous form of Balochi classical literary tradition, folk lore, folk literature, culture, history and other literary dimensions through scientific modern sciences to Balochi language and to introduce modern literary ideologies and terminologies by scientific research. In this regard, more than Five research papers and two book of mine have been published. Other hand, five books of mine have printout for the NUML courses.
